THE BOLD LOOK
OF KOHLER®

Life without labor is guilt. Labor without art is brutality.

- John Ruskin

What John Michael Kohler saw in 1883 when he looked at a cast-iron horse trough was the bathtub that launched a global plumbing company. That pioneering spirit of ingenuity – the kind that sees a bathing revolution in a horse trough – has defined Kohler Co. from its earliest days. A visionary, John Michael Kohler understood the importance of innovative design and an uncompromising commitment to craft and quality. After four generations, we remain a family-owned company, with over 26,000 products and 13,000 patents to our name. Still leading the industry in innovation and quality. Bolder than ever.

Our experience of the world is shaped by the things we encounter every day. From the sideboard that holds our table linens to the juice glasses we use every morning, the objects we choose for our homes reflect who we are and narrate the rhythm and texture of our lives. Balancing artistry and craftsmanship with utility, Artist Editions® products invite you to celebrate beauty and creativity each day.

Art & Craft

Functional works of art, Artist Editions® decorative products go beyond beautiful design. Handcrafted from the finest materials to be one of a kind, these products are as individual as you are. For the homeowner with an artistic sensibility, decorative products let you create a space that is truly your own.

Briolette™ Vessels K-2373-B11

The Artist Editions® line features a number of bathroom sinks that are crafted from natural materials using methods that have been passed down for generations. Honoring the inherent beauty and potential of the materials, Kohler designers and artisans create one-of-a-kind works of art for the home.

Glass

A substance that seems as visionary as it is rooted in daily life, glass has a versatile, fluid nature that lends itself to artistic expression. Cast, spun, slumped or pressed – our glass sinks are crafted by our own small team of artisans in Kohler, Wisconsin. With a precision that rivals watchmaking and a process that can take days, these glassmakers heat, pour and cool glass to capture the right form and texture, color and translucency, shaping basins that range from smooth and sculptural to intricate and patterned.

Bronze

Widely used aboard ships because of its strength and resistance to salt water, bronze is a fitting choice for a bathroom sink. We work with highly skilled craftspeople to transfer each incredibly detailed pattern from mold to casting. Depending on the pattern's complexity, it may take days simply to fabricate the casting. Each sink is smoothed and polished to a burnished living finish that deepens with character over time. When the bronze patina has achieved exactly the look you want, a light coat of wax will slow the color change.

Marble

Carrara and Bianco marbles carry with them a sense of ancient architectural grandeur and exquisite artistry. We've chosen these iconic stones for our Botticelli®, Vessels and Purist® Wading Pool® sinks because of their strength and beautiful coloring. We begin by hand-selecting quarried marble with a rich, subtle character that will come to life in the simplicity of our designs. Milled and hand-finished, each sink embodies a unique story of time and place. We strive to honor that history with unembellished forms and meticulous craftsmanship.

The intricate designs we choose for our ceramic Artist Editions® products are inspired by cultures and landscapes from around the world. Kohler designers pore over architecture, textiles, craftwork and fine art to create the patterns and textures our skilled craftspeople painstakingly bring to life.

Patterns

Based on centuries-old methods used to create fine china such as Wedgwood, we work with the leading transferware manufacturers in the world to turn our artists' sketches into multicolored, multilayered patterns. With detailed precision, each pattern is hand-applied before the fixtures are fired to perfection in our custom kilns.

Metallic Details

Adorning things we value with precious metals is a tradition long practiced in many cultures. Gold and platinum, in particular, have ornamented fine dinnerware for centuries. We've extended this practice to several Artist Editions designs, layering gold and platinum into complex patterns for an added sense of formality and sophistication. Metallic patterns are hand-applied and kiln-fired for durability.

Subtle Textures

Textured patterns begin with meticulously carved, in most cases hand-chiseled, plaster molds. From these, we create working molds that produce ceramic sink castings ready to be glazed and fired. To accentuate the details of the relief pattern, we use a translucent glaze. The result is a unique visual and tactile experience. Color pools and deepens where the pattern dips and is softer where the pattern rises. Every nuance comes to life.

The legendary island Antilia was said to have been discovered – in the Atlantic Ocean off the coast of Portugal – by people fleeing Hispania in 734. Today, cartographers know no such island exists, but its intrigue remains. By bestowing this name on the Antilia Wading Pool sink, Kohler celebrates the sense of allure found throughout nature. Slightly curved edges and a subtle, rippled texture convey both the substantial force of nature and its shifting fluidity.

Imperial Blue

With intricate detail, a serpentine dragon encircles the bowl of this sink, tail in hand to form a curvaceous loop. Typical of the Yung-lo reign of the Ming dynasty but later copied by imperial artisans, the blue-and-white floral pattern and dragon portray traditional strength and wisdom. Imperial Blue draws inspiration from a porcelain vase created during this period.

Marrakesh

Named for the ancient capital of Morocco, the Marrakesh design was inspired by Moorish architecture. Marrakesh, the city, once served as a stop along a major trade route to the famous Timbuktu. The Marrakesh countertop draws inspiration from mosaics found in quaint Moroccan courtyards, while the intricate and abstract floral pattern embellishing the sink is inspired by artwork found in mosques.

Maharani

Maharani is the feminine form of the Indian word maharaja and refers to a woman of power – an empress, princess or queen. Inspired by Indian culture, the Maharani sink and matching faucet are decorated with a special technique that creates raised ruby-like flowers and 24-carat gold tendrils.

Serpentine Bronze

A Chinese bronze basin featuring turtles, fish and intertwining serpents and dating from 475 to 221 B.C.E. serves as the inspiration for Serpentine Bronze – a sink coveted for its warm, beautiful color combination. At first glance, the sink appears covered with an interesting scroll pattern, yet a closer look reveals the surprising, exotic serpentine heads. The matte and glossy surface on a Sandbar background gives this fresh design an aged appearance.

K-14274-RF-96

A dry fly silently floats on the river's surface as nearby a rainbow trout glides through the water. The angler waits patiently, rod in hand. The Rod and the Fly conveys this scene of tranquility, where "the greatest pleasure is to be taken with deceiving the most difficult of fish." Soft colors define the contours of the river and recreate patterns of movement below the surface in this design.

Whistling Straits

It's a brisk, early fall morning at the links-style Whistling Straits® golf course, where open, rugged and windswept terrain challenges golfers along the shore of Lake Michigan. Designed by Pete Dye, Whistling Straits makes a lasting impression for the many golf aficionados who visit Wisconsin to tee off each year. The Whistling Straits collection brings that lasting memory to the bathroom, illustrating the art of golf in the historic style of renowned late 19th-century British artist Douglas Adams.

Pheasant

On a crisp autumn afternoon, a hunter and his dog make their way through the woods, crunching fallen leaves with each step. Ahead they see a beautiful male pheasant with his colorful plume. Such a scene inspired numerous sketches circa 1900, when illustrations of nature graced the pages of popular publications including Harper's Weekly. Pheasant draws on this style of sketching, combining pheasant pairs with the basket-weave pattern of a creel.

Alençon Lace

A bustling market town in the picturesque countryside of France, Alençon has been known for Alençon lace, or point d'Alençon, since the 17th century. The technique, which produces intricate, varied patterns, was preserved by a small group of Carmelite nuns, and today has become a coveted detail on wedding gowns. The Alençon Lace pattern on the Dickinson® single-bowl sink brings a graceful interlacing pattern reminiscent of this needlework to the kitchen.
