What John Michael Kohler saw in 1883 when he looked at a cast iron horse trough was the bathtub that launched a global plumbing company. That pioneering spirit of ingenuity – the kind that sees a bathing revolution in a horse trough – has defined Kohler Co. from its earliest days. A visionary, John Michael Kohler understood the importance of innovative design and an uncompromising commitment to craft and quality.

Kohler History

Four businesses on six continents
Kohler Co. has been leading the way in style and innovation since John Michael Kohler purchased an American cast iron and steel foundry in 1873. A decade later, he coated a cast iron trough with enamel – the first KOHLER® bathtub – thus launching Kohler’s success in plumbing and establishing our company’s vision for innovative design and craftsmanship.

After four generations, we remain a highly successful family-owned company, with over 26,000 products, 13,000 patents to our name and with operations on six continents. Kohler now includes a series of brands in four distinct businesses: Kitchen & Bath, Global Power, Interiors and Hospitality and Real Estate. Kohler owns award-winning hotels, spas and restaurants in Kohler, Wisconsin, USA as well as the Old Course Hotel, Golf Resort and Spa on the world-famous Old Course golf course in St. Andrews, Scotland.

Kitchen & Bath Group
Kohler Co. is a recognized global leader in kitchen and bath design. Its diversity of products and powerful portfolio of brands lead the way in design, craftsmanship and innovation – knit together by a singular level of quality over a broad range of price points. Since 1998, Kohler Co. has doubled in size and is today a leading international plumbing brand. Consumers the world over marvel at the elevated fashion, form and functionality of KOHLER® plumbing from Delhi to Mexico City.

Kohler in Asia Pacific
Kohler and Asia Pacific have an extensive history, dating back to the early 1900s – one of the first international plumbing companies to enter this market. Originally based on an export-import business, Kohler has proven its long-term commitment to the Asia Pacific market through direct market investment and has enjoyed positive business growth in the area. Kohler’s businesses in the Asia Pacific have been honored with awards for quality, service and consumer trust, as well as being featured in high-profile projects such as the Beijing Olympics National Stadium and various five-star hotels.

Through its presence in the Asia Pacific region, the company has the opportunity to access and develop technologies, designs and services that are different from other markets.

Imperial Blue
With intricate detail, a serpentine dragon encircles the bowl of this sink, tail in hand to form a curvaceous loop. Typical of the Yung Lo reign of the Ming dynasty but later copied by imperial artisans, the blue and white floral pattern and dragon portray traditional strength and wisdom. Imperial Blue draws inspiration from a porcelain vase created during this period.

Serpentine Bronze
A Chinese bronze basin with turtles, fish, and intertwining serpents dating from 475-221 BCE serves as the inspiration for Serpentine Bronze – a sink covered with an interesting scroll pattern, yet a closer look reveals the surprising, exotic serpentine heads. The matte and glossy, raised enamel surface on a Sandbar background gives the fresh design an aged appearance.

Briolette
From its roots in ancient India to its discovery by European royals, the briolette – an oval or pear-shaped gemstone cut in triangular facets – remains one of the most distinctive gemstone cuts. Its popularity reemerged during the Victorian era and the Art Deco period, and today, the Briolette Vessels glass sink builds on the tradition. With its uniquely faceted shape, Briolette creates a striking, reflective effect with delicately textured glass.

Persia
One of the oldest continuous civilizations, Persia has a rich tradition of culture and art. An eye-catching classic, the Persia sink offers a fresh interpretation of Middle Eastern and Indian design traditions, drawing influence from decorative architecture and Moorish style. Organic, open work contrasted with geometric patterns creates a unique juxtaposition and richness with gold and platinum micas. The white background creates an effective canvas for the pattern while offering ease of coordination with other fixtures in the space.

Empress Bouquet
The first culture to develop printmaking, the Chinese have produced exceptional woodblock prints since the 9th century. Offering a modern interpretation of 18th-century Chinese print work, Empress Bouquet builds on this rich artistry with its floral motif and brilliant gold and metallic detailing. Each sink showcases a slightly different variation on the pattern, creating a one-of-a-kind piece.

Nepal
With a calming, translucent blue base and a contemplative pattern, the Caravan Collection Nepal design transforms daily routines into moments of reflection. Inspired by East Indian traditions, Nepal draws upon henna ceremonies and textile techniques to deliver a peaceful escape. With delicate detailing and soft shifts in hue and finish, Nepal is ideal for the person desiring a peaceful escape.

Bold. Art.
The GOLD version of the Benjarong series features a composition of the five primary colors – red, blue, green, yellow and black.

The PLATINUM version embodies Thai tradition while reflecting a more subdued approach in contemporary interior design.

Benjarong

This new KOHLER® Artist Editions Collection is a contemporary interpretation of traditional Thai art. It draws its inspiration from ancient craft and patterns. ‘Benjarong’, a Thai word, originates from the Sanskrit words ‘panch’ and ‘rang’, meaning ‘five’ and ‘colors’ respectively.

The Benjarong style is empirical evidence of Thailand’s position as a cultural junction between two major Asian cultures – Chinese and Indian. Benjarong was popular among Thai royalty and the elite classes from the Ayudhaya period (ca. 1400 A.D.) through to the early 20th century.

Laureate

A combination of acanthus leaves from 18th century embossed fabrics and a metalwork style used by the Ottoman Turks, Laureate features Polished Gold or Polished Platinum bands on a White background.
KOHLER® Artist Editions - Kitchen Cabinets are the creative fruit of a unique collaboration with a number of renowned artists. Impressions, experiences, and inspirations are woven into the conceptualization of KOHLER® Artist Editions’ designs resulting in cabinet modules that would appeal to those who appreciate beauty while reflecting the quality and functionality for which KOHLER has become famous the world over.

KOHLER® Kitchens - Purist

Pleasing minimalist designs expressed in soothing and elegant tones. A simple, understated style that combines refinement with perfection, right down to the finest details. Pure colors that convey a sense of luxury. A poetic expression of purity designed for your pleasure.
As a recognized global leader in the kitchen and bath industry, Kohler has taken up the challenge of protecting our environment. Sustainable development has become a corporate mantra, reflected in the company’s global goal of a net-zero carbon footprint by 2035. The roots of this environmental commitment reach as far back as 1966 when Kohler donated 280 acres to create a state park in Wisconsin, U.S.A., expanding the park from 122 acres to a total of 402 acres. Today, that environmental commitment continues through the development of sustainable manufacturing processes and environmentally friendly initiatives.

Environmental Footprint
We’re reducing our carbon and industrial-waste footprint each year to achieve a net-zero environmental footprint by 2035.

Education
We’re inspiring customers across the globe as well as 30,000 Kohler associates worldwide to integrate sustainability at work and in their homes and communities.

Product Innovation
We’ve created a framework to view and measure our product development through the lens of sustainability, without sacrificing our design.

The Shanghai Eco Home
Through its contribution to the “Shanghai Eco Home” exhibit at the 2010 Shanghai World Expo, Kohler sent a clear and powerful message of environmental preservation to the entire world. Responding to the Expo’s slogan ‘Better City, Better Life’ Kohler presented designs that promote both energy conservation and environmental sustainability without sacrificing quality or elegance.

Water for the Future
As populations expand and as the climate changes, demands on global water supplies will be put to the test. Responding to one of the greatest environmental challenges of our era, Kohler is developing technologies that will help preserve this precious resource. Some of our toilets have cut water usage from 6L to 4.2L liters per flush and we continue to search for ways to achieve even greater reductions.

“So-called ‘free-goods’ such as sunshine and fresh air may be of more real worth than most economic goods.”

Walter J. Kohler, 1934

PVD Finishes

PVD is a Kohler customized finish system that vaporizes a finish color material and molecularly bonds it to the chrome surface, making the color an integral part of the product. A nickel undercoating further enhances the strength and color integrity of KOHLER® PVD finishes. The result is a designer’s dream: an extraordinary range of colors that transforms our faucets into stars in the bathroom. PVD helps resist scratches, corrosion and tarnishing. And every one of our finishes exceed performance requirements by twice the normal industry standard to deliver lasting beauty.

There is no sacrifice in style, strength or durability. In fact, nothing complements a home décor quite like enameled cast iron’s rich finish and long-lasting presence. Its versatility can bring out highlights in the kitchen and bathroom or it can stand on its own entirely.
