Total Energy Systems to Represent KOHLER Generators in Eastern Michigan

Longtime sales and service provider expands territory with acquisition of GenPower Products

KOHLER, Wis. (October 17, 2018) – Total Energy Systems LLC, Green Bay, Wis., a longtime sales and service provider for KOHLER generators, is expanding its territory into Eastern Michigan following the company’s recent acquisition of GenPower Products Inc., Wixom, Mich. Total Energy Systems is now a certified distributor of KOHLER generators and related accessories in an expanded geographic market, which encompasses all of Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota and North Dakota and parts of Illinois.

“We’re pleased that Total Energy Systems is expanding its territory into Eastern Michigan,” said Jim Kukla, senior channel manager for KOHLER generators. “Customers throughout the state of Michigan will now have a single point of access for their complete power systems needs and will benefit from the significant sales and service resources available through Total Energy’s vast network in the upper Midwest.”

A global force in power solutions since 1920, KOHLER manufactures complete power systems, including generators (portable, marine, residential, commercial and industrial), automatic transfer switches, switchgear, monitoring controls, and accessories for emergency, prime power and energy-management applications around the world. The company is committed to reliable, leading edge power-generation products as well as comprehensive after-sale support.
