

KOHLER® Cleanse™

Putting Health & Hygiene Into Your Hands

In response to the staggering statistic that 2.3 billion people live without the means to safely wash their hands at home, we have developed KOHLER® Cleanse. A hands-free handwashing faucet, KOHLER Cleanse empowers people to literally take protecting their health into their own hands.

According to the CDC, handwashing can prevent 1 in 3 diarrhea-related sicknesses and 1 in 5 respiratory infections, such as a cold or the flu. UNICEF reports that beyond the 3 in 10 people lacking handwashing access at home, an additional 670 million people have no handwashing facility at all. At Kohler, we're committed to addressing UN Sustainable Development Goals, including Goal 6: Clean Water and Sanitation, where our innovation and expertise can have the greatest impact.
