KOHLER®

David Kohler
President & Chief Operating Officer, Kohler Co.

A singular level of exceptional quality. It's the guiding principle that Kohler Co. has been founded upon over the last decades. As we are celebrating 140 years in business our bold designs and our mission to enhance gracious living continue to build from this central promise. KOHLER® products reflect this heritage of excellence. Leading-edge design, advanced technologies and renowned craftsmanship characterize our innovative kitchen and bath products, engines and generators, cabinetry and furniture.

This foundational quality extends throughout all facets of the organization, including our world-class hospitality and resort destinations, customer service centers, and all of our associates.

This brochure represents decades of creative passion and our commitment to bring only new and unique products to market. It presents the hallmarks of KOHLER® plumbing products and ultimately, reinforces our dedication to creating truly delightful consumer experiences.

What John Michael Kohler saw in 1883 when he looked at a cast iron horse trough was the bathtub that launched a global plumbing company. That pioneering spirit of ingenuity – the kind that sees a bathing revolution in a horse trough – has defined Kohler Co. from its earliest days. A visionary, John Michael Kohler understood the importance of innovative design and an uncompromising commitment to craft and quality.

Kohler History

John Michael Kohler

Four businesses on six continents

Kohler Co. has been leading the way in style and innovation since John Michael Kohler purchased an American cast iron and steel foundry in 1873. A decade later, he coated a cast iron trough with enamel – the first KOHLER® bathtub – thus launching Kohler's success in plumbing and establishing our company's vision for innovative design and craftsmanship.

After four generations, we remain a highly successful family-owned company, with over 26,000 products, 13,000 patents to our name and with operations on six continents. Kohler now includes a series of brands in four distinct businesses: Kitchen and Bath, Global Power, Interiors and Hospitality and Real Estate. Kohler owns award-winning hotels, spas and restaurants in Kohler, Wisconsin, USA as well as the Old Course Hotel, Golf Resort and Spa on the world-famous Old Course golf course in St. Andrews, Scotland.

Kitchen & Bath Group

Kohler Co. is a recognized global leader in kitchen and bath design. Its diversity of products and powerful portfolio of brands lead the way in design, craftsmanship and innovation – knit together by a singular level of quality over a broad range of price points. Since 1998, Kohler Co. has doubled in size and is today a leading international plumbing brand. Consumers the world over marvel at the elevated fashion, form and functionality of KOHLER® plumbing from Delhi to Mexico City.

Kohler in Asia Pacific

Kohler and Asia Pacific have an extensive history, dating back to the early 1900s – one of the first international plumbing companies to enter this market. Originally based on an export-import business, Kohler has proven its long-term commitment to the Asia Pacific market through direct market investment and has enjoyed positive business growth in the area.

From small success stories of product installations in China, Australia and New Zealand, to distributor partnerships in Japan, the Philippines and Vietnam, Kohler has increased its operations in Asia Pacific to include offices, factories, distributors and showrooms in multiple countries. Kohler's business in the Asia Pacific is wholly owned, profitable and among the company's fastest growing operations. Kohler's businesses in the Asia Pacific have been honored with awards for quality, service and consumer trust, as well as being featured in high-profile projects such as the Beijing Olympics National Stadium and various five star hotels.

Through its presence in the Asia Pacific region, the company has the opportunity to access and develop technologies, designs and services that are different from other markets.

Artist Editions K O H L E R

Artistic Roots

Kohler's artistic roots run deep. As far back as 1929, KOHLER products were selected to become part of the permanent collection of the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York. In the ensuing decades Kohler's artistic tradition has continued and deepened, manifesting itself in the creativity of all of the company's products.

Artists Editions® - Sharing Inspiration

Functional works of art, Artist Editions products are crafted by skilled artisans using methods that have been passed down for generations. Each design is inspired by patterns and color palettes drawn from cultures and landscapes around the world. Balancing artistry and craftsmanship with utility, Artist Editions products invite you to celebrate beauty and creativity each day.

Art for the Future

As a market leader, Kohler always keeps one eye on the horizon. Through initiatives such as the Arts/Industry program and the John Michael Kohler Art Center in Wisconsin, U.S.A, Kohler seeks to inspire and foster a new generation of artists. Bringing art to life and life to art is the essence of Kohler's artistic mission, transforming everyday products into elegant creations that enhance our lives.

Artist Editions

For the individual who celebrates artistic expression in everyday life, KOHLER® decorative products help you bring intricate patterns drawn from around the world and detailed craftsmanship into your living spaces.

Imperial Blue

With intricate detail, a serpentine dragon encircles the bowl of this sink, tail in hand to form a curvaceous loop. Typical of the Yung Lo reign of the Ming dynasty but later copied by imperial artisans, the blue and white floral pattern and dragon portray traditional strength and wisdom. Imperial Blue draws inspiration from a porcelain vase created during this period.

Serpentine Bronze

A Chinese bronze basin with turtles, fish, and intertwining serpents dating from 475-221 BCE serves as the inspiration for Serpentine Bronze – a sink coveted for its warm, beautiful color combination. At first glance, the sink appears covered with an interesting scroll pattern, yet a closer look reveals the surprising, exotic serpentine heads. The matte and glossy, raised enamel surface on a Sandbar background give this fresh design an aged appearance.

Briolette

From its roots in ancient India to its discovery by European royals, the briolette – an oval or pearshaped gemstone cut in triangular facets – remains one of the most distinctive gemstone cuts. Its popularity reemerged during the Victorian era and the Art Deco period, and today the Briolette Vessels glass sink builds on the tradition. With its uniquely faceted shape, Briolette creates a striking, reflective effect with delicately textured glass.

Persia

One of the oldest continuous civilizations, Persia has a rich tradition of culture and art. An eye-catching classic, the Persia sink offers a fresh interpretation of Middle Eastern and Indian design traditions, drawing influence from decorative architecture and Moorish style. Organic, open line work contrasted with geometric patterns creates a unique juxtaposition and richness with gold and platinum micas. The white background creates an effective canvas for the pattern while offering ease of coordination with other fixtures in the space.

Empress Bouquet

The first culture to develop printmaking, the Chinese have produced exceptional woodblock prints since the 9th century. Offering a modern interpretation of 18th-century Chinese print work, Empress Bouquet builds on this rich artistry with its floral motif and brilliant gold and metallic detailing. Each sink showcases a slightly different variation on the pattern, creating a one-of-a-kind piece.

Nepal

With a calming, translucent blue base and a contemplative pattern, the Caravan Collection Nepal design transforms daily routines into moments of reflection. Inspired by East Indian traditions, Nepal draws upon henna ceremonies and textile techniques to deliver a peaceful escape. With delicate detailing and soft shifts in hue and finish, Nepal is ideal for the person desiring a peaceful escape.

Benjarong™

The GOLD version of the Benjarong series features a composition of the five primary colors – red, blue, green, yellow and black.

The PLATINUM version embodies Thai tradition while reflecting a more subdued approach in contemporary interior design.

Benjarong

This new KOHLER® Artist Editions Collection is a contemporary interpretation of traditional Thai art. It draws its inspiration from ancient craft and patterns. 'Benjarong', a Thai word, originates from the Sanskrit words 'panch' and 'rang', meaning 'five' and 'colors' respectively.

The Benjarong style is empirical evidence of Thailand's position as a cultural 'junction' between two major Asian cultures – Chinese and Indian. Benjarong was popular among Thai royalty and the elite classes from the Ayudhaya period (ca. 1400 A.D.) through to the early 20th century.

Bold. Sustainability.

Working toward sustainability is an ongoing journey for Kohler, and creating water-conserving products has been a key component. We have a history of looking ahead and doing all we can to ensure the future of our community and our world. We honor that tradition by creating a better future.

As a recognized global leader in the kitchen and bath industry, Kohler has taken up the challenge of protecting our environment. Sustainable development has become a corporate mantra, reflected in the company's global goal of a net-zero carbon footprint by 2035. The roots of this environmental commitment reach as far back as 1966 when Kohler donated 280 acres to create a state park in Wisconsin, U.S.A.; expanding the park from 122 acres to a total of 402 acres. Today, that environmental commitment continues through the development of sustainable manufacturing processes and environmentally friendly initiatives in every corner of the world where our company is present. Our mission is to demonstrate to the world that excellent products can also be environmentally friendly.

Reforestation in China

As part of its strong commitment to the environment, Kohler has launched several reforestation projects in northern and southwest China. These initiatives echo Kohler's pioneering environmental work in North America and share the common aim of restoring and preserving ecological balance.

The Shanghai Eco Home

Through its contribution to the ‘Shanghai Eco Home’ exhibit at the 2010 Shanghai World Expo, Kohler sent a clear and powerful message of environmental preservation to the entire world. Responding to the Expo's slogan ‘Better City, Better Life’ Kohler presented designs that promote both energy conservation and environmental sustainability without sacrificing quality or elegance.

Water for the Future

As populations expand and as the climate changes, demands on global water supplies will be put to the test. Responding to one of the greatest environmental challenges of our era, Kohler is developing technologies that will help preserve this precious resource. Some of our toilets have cut water usage from 6L to 4.2L liters per flush and we continue to search for ways to achieve even greater reductions.

Bold. Sustainability.

We're committed to a philosophy of environmental, social and economic responsibility in which all three elements work together and benefit one another. To help us achieve our goals, we've focused on three strategies.

Bold. Strategies.

Environmental Footprint

We're reducing our carbon and industrial-waste footprint each year to achieve a net zero environmental footprint by 2035.

Education

We're inspiring customers across the globe as well as 30,000 Kohler associates worldwide to integrate sustainability at work and in their homes and communities.

Product Innovation

We've created a framework to view and measure our product development through the lens of sustainability, without sacrificing our design.

Bold. Statement.

To be bold is to lead. To be bold is to innovate. To be bold is to dare to imagine differently. In every aspect of our business from the creative process to manufacturing, Kohler strives to lead. In the artistry of our product designs, in research and development and through sustainable manufacturing, Kohler is taking bold steps toward ever higher levels of excellence.

The Essence of Refinement

Refinement at Kohler means boldly seeking out the essence of excellence. It means blending quality with elegance and form with function. It means thinking outside the box to create pioneering products that enhance and refine our lives. Kohler is continually working to develop new technologies and to find new ways of ensuring all of our products are stylish, contemporary, practical and beautiful.

Permanent Evolution

For more than a century, Kohler's designs and concepts have been infused with the American spirit – a spirit that searches for new frontiers and stands for modernity itself. Through dedicated research and development, Kohler has carried bathroom and kitchen design to new heights, giving the concept of elegance and refinement in these everyday spaces new meaning. Kohler's creative journey is one of permanent evolution, and it is a journey that continues today and every day.

High Technology Meets Human Design

In imagining the perfect bathroom or kitchen, our starting point is always 'you' - the person who will occupy these spaces and enjoy our products. Kohler's mission, therefore, is to boldly merge the latest technological advancements with innovative designs that are essentially human in their conception. This is expressed through the elegant shapes and bold lines of KOHLER® products, often inspired by great art, and in the technological enhancements that are discreetly paired with them. The goal is elegant living with all the advantages modern technology can offer.

PVD Finishes™

PVD (Physical Vapor Deposition) Finishes

PVD is a Kohler customized finish system that vaporizes a finish color material and molecularly bonds it to the chrome surface, making the color an integral part of the product. A nickel undercoating further enhances the strength and color integrity of KOHLER® PVD finishes. The result is a designer's dream: an extraordinary range of colors that transforms our faucets into stars in the bathroom. PVD helps resist scratches, corrosion and tarnishing. And every one of our finishes exceed performance requirements by two times the normal industry standard to deliver lasting beauty.
